Description & Detailed Itinerary

We are the only company in the world who have an experienced expedition leader and doctor on our Kang Yatse II (6,250m) expeditions while keeping group sizes sustainably small. This allows us to deliver an unrivalled level of safety and service for each and every one of our clients. Having smaller group sizes allows us to minimise our environmental impact and foster a stronger team dynamic.

This 13-day expedition is suitable for experienced trekkers who have a good level of fitness. Towering at an impressive 6,250m, Kang Yatse II is a serious challenge - and the highest trekking peak in the Indian Himalayas.

Our route to the mountain is along the stunning Markha valley, where we pass through traditional villages and enjoy stunning mountain views. Ascending the valley is gradual, which is perfect for acclimatisation improving our chances of a successful summit attempt.

The 12-hour summit day is the crux of the itinerary. Most of this day is spent on snow, with some short steep sections requiring the use of ropes. The view from the top of Kang Yatse II is one of the best in the Himalayas, offering great views of the Zaskar and Karakoram ranges, including K2 (8,611m), the world's second-tallest mountain.

This is one of the best trekking peaks in the Indian Himalayas, and its proximity to Leh makes it very accessible. Ladakh, often referred to as 'little Tibet', is characterised by Buddhist culture and tradition. Visits to monasteries, palaces, markets and remote villages are all included in this expedition.

Day 1: Expedition briefing in Leh You will meet your expedition leader and group at a pre-agreed time and location in Leh. There will be a full expedition briefing in the afternoon. Overnight hotel.
Day 2: Acclimatise and sightseeing in Leh. Spend the day in Leh to acclimatise. For the more energetic, a visit to monasteries such as Shey, Thikse, and Hemis will be arranged. Or, choose to relax and walk around Leh. Visit markets, shops, and outdoor restaurants. Enjoy the great views of Stok Kangri (6,153 m) and its surrounding peaks. Overnight hotel. Altitude 3,505m.
Day 3: Leh to Chilling to Skiu, 6 hrs. After breakfast we drive for two hours to Chilling village. It's a stunning drive as we travel along the Indus and then the Zaskar river in private jeeps. Once we reach Chilling, we cross the roaring Zaskar and trek for 4 hours to Skiu. It's an easy hike as we follow the Markha valley to reach our destination. We enjoy our first night in tents just outside Skiu village. Overnight camp. Altitude 3,400m.
Day 4: Skiu to Markha, 8 hrs. Today is a longer day, but the elevation gain is very gradual - ideal for acclimatisation. The most challenging element will be that there is very little shade from the typically hot sun. We cross the Markha river several times and pass many Mani walls (stones inscribed with Buddhist prayers) throughout the day. In the afternoon we reach Markha village, the largest settlement in the area. Overnight camp. Altitude 3,800m.
Day 5: Markha to Thachungtse, 6 hrs. Another beautiful day on the trail as we ascend further up the valley through the Umlung and Hankar villages to reach our campsite at Thachungtse. We see a number of fantastic geological creations today, with giant boulders balanced on top of earth spikes. We'll also get our first view of Kang Yatse, which dominates the landscape for the next two days. Overnight camp. Altitude 4,150m.
Day 6: Thachungtse to Nimaling, 4 hrs. Today we climb away from the Markha valley to reach a beautiful plateau called Nimaling. During the summer, people from the Markha valley graze their animals here. The views of Kang Yatse and the Markha valley are stunning from our campsite. Overnight camp. Altitude 4,700m.
Day 7: Nimaling to Base Camp, 3 hrs. A short distance to cover today, but it's important to take it slowly as we move above 5000m. From Nimaling, we follow a small path through loose rock to reach a high point where we get our first view of base camp. We set up our camp beside a small stream. Overnight camp. Altitude 5,100m.

Day 8: Rest day at Base Camp.

We practise skills on a nearby snow slope and go for an acclimatisation hike in the afternoon. Overnight camp. Altitude 5,100m.

Day 9: Base Camp to Kang Yatse II (6,250m) to Base Camp, 16 hrs.

This is the most difficult day of the trek and takes a lot of physical and mental strength. We rise very early (just after midnight) and ascend on scree and moraine to reach the snowline. From there, the terrain is mostly gradual except for a few short, steep sections which may require the use of rope. At the summit we are greeted by amazing views of the Himalaya and Karakoram. The Zaskar, Stok, and Ladakh ranges form an outstanding vista of snow-capped peaks. From the summit we descend to reach base camp for lunch. Overnight camp. Altitude 5,100m.

Day 10: Spare Summit Day.

Spare day to account for bad weather, further acclimatisation, and rest.

Day 11: Base Camp to Chuskirmo to Leh, 10 hrs.

The walk out from Kang Yatse is a tough one. We retrace our steps back down to Nimaling and then ascend to the Kangmaru La Pass (5,260m). From the pass we get to enjoy our last panoramic views of the larger peaks before descending to Chuskirmo. Drive 2 hrs to Leh where a nice (and well deserved!) warm shower awaits. Overnight hotel. Altitude 3,500m.

Day 12: Free Day in Leh.

Enjoy the day in Leh for shopping, sightseeing, or relaxing. In the evening we go for a celebratory meal. Overnight hotel. Altitude 3,500m.

Day 13: Expedition Concludes.

Say farewell to India as our expedition comes to an end.

Summit Day Policy

Our goal on this expedition is for the entire group to reach the summit and return safely. Due to the difficulty of the summit day on these mountains, and the importance of maintaining a good guide-to-client ratio, it is essential we attempt the summit with a strong team. Any clients who are deemed by our expedition leader as not fit enough to reach and return from the summit safely, will not be allowed to attempt the summit. This ensures we have a strong team for summit and that those clients who are fit enough are given the best opportunity to attempt it.

Safety Standards

At Earth's Edge, your safety is our top priority. Each expedition is led by an experienced leader supported by a qualified doctor with a keen interest in adventure travel and expedition medicine.

Our expeditions are further supported by our dedicated Earth's Edge team of Sherpa guides and porters, all selected for their skills, experience, and excellent references.

Our teams are familiar with the locations of local medical facilities and hospitals in each destination. While our doctor carries a comprehensive medical kit, we ask all participants to bring a basic first aid kit as outlined in the equipment list. Always follow the guidance of your expedition leader to ensure a safe and enjoyable experience.

We recommend participants research local laws and customs before travelling to Nepal. Up-to-date travel advice is available on the DFA website.

On expeditions, the most common cause of illness is gastroenteritis (Delhi Belly), often caused by poor personal hygiene. The good news is that it is easily avoided by practising the following:

- Always wash your hands and apply hand sanitiser after going to the toilet and before touching food.
- Always use drinking water to brush your teeth and avoid ingesting water while showering or washing your face.
- Maintain a healthy diet and consider taking multivitamins and probiotics for one month before and during the expedition to help your body adjust to changes in your diet and keep you healthy throughout the expedition.
- Drinking water is provided by Earth's Edge on each day of the trek, this water is boiled and cooled. You may also wish to bring your own water treatment tablets. If you wish to change the flavour of the water it is recommended to use electrolyte tablets/sachets or add a concentrated flavour drink.
